Dear Chiara:

Below is a link to a news release regarding the San Diego Regional Water Quality Control Board vote this week on the Carlsbad Desalination Project and two news articles from the San Diego Union-Tribune that were published over the weekend.

The two commentaries accurately sum up the dire situation California is facing with historic drought conditions and the importance of the Carlsbad Desalination Project. Both the editorial from the paper and the opinion piece from Gary Arant urge the Regional Board to approve the project at its hearing this Wednesday.
